DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Applicants arguments filed on 3/29/04. Claims 1-45 are presented for examinations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Janik et al (US Patent Application 2003/0005433 A1) in view of Janik et al (US Patent Application 2002/0164973 A1).

As per claim 1, Janik '2003/0005433 discloses a data marking device data searching system comprising:

a data network (fig. # 16); a user terminal coupled to the data network (§ 0021) configured to transmit a search request corresponding to a marked data (§ 003); and a server terminal coupled to a data network configured to access one or more storage units in response to said search request received from said user terminal, and to transmit a result corresponding to said search request to said user terminal (fig. 1, # 24, § 0045, 0047-0048).

Janik '2003/0005433 does not explicitly teach wherein said marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time. However, Janik '2002/0164973 teaches wherein said marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time (§ 0127). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of the cited references to provide a marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time because the data can be used to retrieve information about that particular song through radio station playlist information services (§ 0014, 0127).

As per claim 2, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said data network includes one of a Local Area Network (LAN), a Wide Area Network (WAN), and an internet connection (§ 0021).

As per claims 3 and 16, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said user terminal includes one of a personal computer, an internet access enabled personal digital assistant, Wireless Application Protocol enabled mobile telephone, and an i-mode enabled mobile telephone (§ 0017).

As per claims 4 and 17, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said user terminal and said serverterminal are coupled to said data network using one of a TCP/IP protocol, and an Appletalk protocol (§ 0021).

As per claims 5, 18 and 40, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said search request includes an indication of selecting said marked data (§ 0003).

As per claims 6 and 19, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said indication includes a drag and drop operation of an icon representative of said marked data displayed on said user terminal to an icon representative of said search request (§ 0050).

As per claims 7 and 20, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said icon representative of said marked data includes a hypertext link (§ 0022).

As per claims 8, 21 and 35, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said icon representative of said search request includes one of a two-dimensional still image or a three-dimensional still image, and a dynamic video image (§ 0063).

As per claims 9, 22, and 30 Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said user terminal is configured to output a search request in progress display after said search request is transmitted (§ 0050).

As per claims 10-11, 23-24, 29, 37-38 and 43, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said one or more storage units of the server terminal includes one or more user playlist databases, wherein each of said one or more user playlist databases includes information corresponding to the marked data corresponding to the respective users (§ 0048).

As per claims 12 and 25 and 31, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said marked data includes information corresponding to a bookmarked music clip broadcast over a radio station (§ 0003).

As per claims 13-14, 26-27, 32, 36 and 44, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said information corresponding to the bookmarked music clip includes one or more of a name of the music clip, a name of the music clip artist, and a name of the music clip album, wherein the result corresponding to the search request transmitted to the user terminal includes one or more of information corresponding to music clips broadcast over one or more radio stations (§ 0050-0051).

Claims 15 and 45 are rejected by the same rationale as state in independent claim 1.

Claim 28 is rejected by the same rationale as state in independent claim 1. Furthermore, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches a plurality of user terminals configured to permit access to said one user terminal to perform a data search operation (§ 0048).

As per claims 33 and 39, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches initiating a music search operation utilizing a marked data, receiving for display a search pending status data (§ 0047); and receiving a playlist corresponding to said search operation (§ 0048, 0050-0051).

Janik '2003/0005433 does not explicitly teach wherein said marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time. However, Janik '2002/0164973 teaches wherein said marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time (§ 0127). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of the cited references to provide a marked data indicates a time and said marked data represents content that is broadcasted at said time because the data can be used to retrieve information about that particular song through radio station playlist information services (§ 0014, 0127).

As per claim 34, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches initiating step includes selecting a bookmarked music (§ 0045).

As per claims 41-43, Janik '2003/0005433 teaches wherein said retrieving step includes accessing one or more databases, wherein said one or more databases includes user playlist databases, including updating said one or more databases (§ 0003, 0048).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims -45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
